The Mexican Question.

The demand of Spain on the Mexican Government, seems to be for indomnity for the seizure of one of Marin's steamers, the Maria Concepcion, which was taken into Vera Cruz. These vessels left Havana to ald Miramon in the attack on Vera Cruz, with the connivance of the Spanish Government, The commander of the Spanish Atet at Sacrificion sent a demand for a restitution of the vessel, the delivery of the crew, and the payment of $100,000 indemnity; threatening a bombardment if these demands were not complied with in twenty-fours. Vera Cruz not having much to lose by bombardment, took the demand coolly, and replied that the crew was released, the courts were adjudicating on the vessel, and until their decision, the Government could do nothing; but if that decision was against the right to seize the vessel, prompt indemnity would be made.

This point the affair had reached, at the last news. It is known that Spain has been recuperating her energies wonderfully of late years. She now aspires to admission into the congress of the first-class Powers, and for some time she has been, like Mose, "spilin for a fight" with some Power that she could whip. She has recently closed a successful war in Africa, and the martial spirit of the nation is up. France backs her, which makes her still more saucy. It is very likely that Spain will pursue this matter, and if she does, our Government has a hand in it. In the first place there is the Monroe doctrine-so called, because invented by John Quincy Adamswhich our President's messages are constantly affirming, which is directly against any recolonization of America by European Powers. It was made especially to fit the case of Spain, which was then trying to reconquer her Mexican Provinces.

After bragging the Monroe doctrine so long, it will not do to throw it up when required to show our hands But, aside from that, our foot is in the matter already, for we assisted at the capture of these vessels, and carried off two of them, which our court has decided to have been illegal. We shared the plunder, and must stand by our comrade. Let there be honor among thieves, wherever else it may be wanting.

But what better opportunity could we ask-for carrying out our cherished desire on Cuba. Let it be understood that when Spain attacks Juarry she knocks a chip off our shoulder! Then seize Cuba at once! What time could be more promition. time could be more propitious! We have a great military chieftain at the head of the Government; one who, since his inauguration, was elected member of a Philadelphia military company. He is also one of the authors of the Ostend Manifesto. Now let him show his faith by his works. We bave thousands of heroes in the South, ardent's a Southern sun can breed, aching to rend the Union to atoms. Let them go and try their hand at rending old Spain. There is Hambleton, of the Atlanta (Ga.) Confederacy, who says the South will not bave a Republican President inaugurated, if they have to cover the streets of the Capital sixty fathous deep with dead bodies: let him go and do it at that rate in Cuba, and it will be all up with Spain.

There never can be such an opportunity again. There is an immense pressure of superfluous valor, which, for the safety of the country, requires an outlet: and we have a President who must have been fitted especially to direct the Government in a foreign conquest, on the same principle that the man's dog was a good dog for raccoon; for he has shown himself unfit to direct it in every thing else.

Increase in the Revenue of the Public

The Olio State Journal publishes a statement showing a net increase in the revenues ters, ending August I, of the fiscal year, of $1,351 77. This is enough to repair the damages from some shower, provided it is a very small one and very local in extent, and provided Providence is particularly favorable just at that time in that locality, for nagement of the canals contrives to make the best of all showers. But the moral effect will be much greater than this insignificant sum indicates. We don't know whether the increase will be credited to Republican ascendancy in the State or in the Board; although we observe that the Journal attributes the small ratio of increase shown by the census in the population of Columbus to the want of a more protective tariff.

But the moral effect will chiefly be in showing the advantage of keeping the canals in State management. This increase, and a greater one in the next quarter, will be quoted as a ratio, to sustain the old tumbledown policy of State management, by which twice as much is paid by the State for patching up structures after they have actually tumbled down, as in private hands would keep the canals in good, reliable order, all to support a swarm of political muskrats. But it is the old principle of common-law laid down by the mankey in the cheese case— justice is first due to the court: the canals are due first to the party. No matter how great and inevitable the loss to the people by the cenals, there is an army of sutlers to the camp, whose profits accrue, all the same, Let the excess of outgo be set down as so much additional which we pay for the cost of governing us, and sustaining right principles in the escendancy in the State.

Speech of William L. Yancer at Memphis. The speech of this gentleman, who has been be special mark of a kind of coarse-hand lang throughout the country, was distinsuished for its dignity, honor and manliness, or its freedom from all vituperation, for the directness and straightforwardness of its arguments, disdaining all subterfuge and duplicity, and for the absence of all that phmorical, classical, spread-eagle rant, which is so common at the South, and which is called Southern eloquence. Preserving his high tone throughout, his arguments were put with a clearness and force that carried the audience with him; and die manly vindication of himself from the storm of abuse which has been visited upon him, aroused the audience to the highest pitch of San Francisco, August 11.—The various county Democratic Committees throughout the State have been holding meetings, and have divided into Douglas and Breckinridge wings, each division calling separate County Conventions to elect delegates to one or the other of the Democratic State Electoral Conventions. All these county committees were composed last year of Administration Democrats. They now average about an equal number of Douglas and Breckinridge men. This is a favorable indication of the Douglas strength in the State, as the Anti-Lecompton wing of the party, composed last year almost entirely of Douglas men, was not represented in any of the county committees. It is now understood that the sixteen State Senators, who hold over and will vote for United States Senator next winter, are about equally divided.

The Eldorado County Democratic Committee have had two meetings, and stood five for Breckinridge, four for Douglas, and three on the fence.
